Some papers are bigger than The News, yes, but what is in them? Which do you prefer, quality or bulk? This paper is different from any other paper published. It has an originality you do not find often. You can get more bulk for the money, but not the quality. You buy coal by the ton, but you don't buy diamonds that way.

LIQUOR VETO IS KILLED BY CONGRESS

President's Intention to Kill Dry Measure Overridden by Both Houses of Congress in Few Hours—S. F. Man in Alleged Plot to Kidnap Ford Boy—Short Stories of the Wires.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The prohibition enforcement bill was repassed today by the Senate over President Wilson's veto. The section relating to war-time prohibition becomes effective immediately upon its transmission to the State Department by the clerk of the Senate.

The vote was 65 to 20, eight more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

S. F. MAN IN KIDNAPING

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 28.—Statements of a private detective that he had discovered a plot to kidnap Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, and hold him for $200,000 ransom, led to the arrest here today of four men.

The detective gave his name as Floyd Gray, and he said he came to Toledo from the East in connection with strike disorders and became aware of the plot while stopping at a local hotel.

The prisoners are Richard Ramsey, San Francisco; Eddie Cole, alias Kinney, Louisville, Ky.; Joseph Fisher, New York City, and Claude Cameron of Toledo.

CONTRA IDEAS ON STEEL STRIKE

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Following a statement to the effect that steel workers had lost the strike, made to military leaders in Gary, Ind., by L. E. Titus, a member of the steel workers' council there, John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee directing the strike, said, "The strike is won, no matter what its outcome may be."

DRY BILL NOW LAW SAY EXPERTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Senate parliamentarians of years' experience said that although the question never had been raised before, they believed the prohibition enforcement bill became law from the moment of the Senate action at 3:46 o'clock today.

Louis Parcia, 31, and Elvira Carrea, 39, both of San Pablo, secured a marriage license in Martinez yesterday.

GET-TOGETHER PLANS ARE ALL PREPARED

Final arrangements for the "Get-Together Banquet" to be held at the Wesley Methodist church is complete. The chief speaker of the evening will be Dr. E. P. Dennett of Berkeley, who is considered to be one of the ablest preachers in California. Representing the local church brief addresses will be made by Messrs. McCallum, Dudley, Kirkpatrick and J. E. Hill.

Following musical selections will be rendered:

Bartitone solo—Ed. Hill.
Male Duet, "Larboard Watch," by Messrs. Osborn and Thompson.
Solo, "The Holy City"—Miss Agnes Pieper.
Male quartet, "Serenade"—Messrs. McFarlane, Banner, Osborn and Thompson.
Solo, "Curtew"—A. M. Farlane.

The committee representing the Ladies' Aid and the Wesley Matrons under the leadership of Mesdames Wright and Elcher will have ample edibles for the large crowd which they anticipate.

It is the plan of the pastor to have a series of these social functions during the year when the members and friends of the church will Get-Together like a big family and enjoy the sociability of the church.

The program will begin at 7:45 Wednesday evening, October 29th. Come early to get a seat.

REBEKAH ORPHANS TO HAVE BENEFIT

The Past Noble Grands' Association of the Rebekahs will entertain at a whist party and dance at Bank Hall on Thursday evening, October 30, for the benefit of the Rebekahs' Orphans' Home at Gilroy.

Committee members in charge of the affair are Mrs. W. K. Damon, Mrs. E. G. Powell, Mrs. Harold Edgar, Mrs. H. J. Beyer, Miss Grace Curry and Mrs. Mabel Chapman.

GERRARD HAS SOMETHING TO SAY

Councilman Who Has Had Long Experience With Harbor Work Thinks Big Land Owners Ought To Pay the Bills and Says Plainly That the City Has Been Flim-flammed.

Inasmuch as the News has published letters on the harbor matter from Councilman Lane and Councilman Gerlach, the following from Councilman Gerrard is published by special request:

Editor News:

Much can be said of the Bond issue about to be voted on November 4th, from our experience in the last Harbor Bond money.

To start with, it is extremely discouraging to do work that is so great a benefit to those who put all the stumbling blocks in the way and lay awake nights to figure out ways to gouge the City of its money.

I am sure you will quite agree with me when I explain how I feel about our past experience—and I had it to do all over again I am assured, there would be no Tunnel or Highway or Wharf or Harbor, for the following reasons:

First—To pay damages to one so much benefited as the John Nichol Co., which should have given $25,000 rather than gouge the Bond fund to recover the alleged damages.

Then we ran into the W. L. Forman property, who was very fair to deal with, but it cost $12,300 and a great benefit and should have been no damages as the property ran along the edge of the hill and was impractical for building purposes.

Then the next—the Santa Fe, who tried to gouge the Bond fund for $80,000—the highway we had to pay $7,500. Also a great benefit in the line of development to the Santa Fe railway.

Then—worse than all—Julius Carey $20,000 damages with interest which has not been paid as yet, for damages, and the highway never touched his land and was a great benefit to his property—rather than damages.

Also the Richmond Belt Railway, $2,500 damages for Easement over a tide lot at the Municipal Wharf.

We have not developed much on the Inner Harbor and it is hard to tell what we may run into. It will not ill become Mr. John Nichol to claim damages for the work of filling in by the dredger in front of the quarry. Also later on when barges cannot get into the brickyard, we have no assurance that he won't ask damages.

The Bay Counties Land Company was very fair in their dealings. The only thing, the city, through its efforts, has made some nice land for them worth lots more than it was.

Now out of all the development the city has done, none of the land owners directly benefited have done a thing to help out. Rather than help they have persisted in throwing the monkey-wrenches in the gears to break down the machinery the city is building to make Richmond a greater Richmond.

Is it any wonder one gets discouraged in well doing, when we have such parasites to contend with, as above mentioned.

Did you ever think and ask yourself—why does the northwest end of the Potrero grow and not the southeast end? I will tell you—The land owners are doing their own developing and doing lots of business but spending their own money and not the city's money, and employing lots of men, which is a benefit to all Richmond.

At Winehaven now they are spending a lot of money on a new wharf and warehouse, and at San Pablo you can see large vessels loading and unloading at all times on the line of development of Richmond.

These above mentioned land owners are spending their own money in dredging and building wharves, when the east end land owners are wanting the city to develop theirs, and we have no assurance that the land owners will do anything, for we know that so far they have done nothing but lay back and let the city do the good work for them and they sue for damages.

WOMEN OF RICHMOND

Do you recall all the work that the Ladies' Aids have done at all times in the churches of the land? Do you remember how our friends, the men, have proclaimed that we needed a new carpet, new pews, new furnace, new pulpit, new anything?

They proclaimed and the Ladies' Aid set to work and earned the money to get what ever was required. They earned it by making fancy things, food, clothing to sell.

They earned it by basket so-cials and other kinds of so-cials.

By constant, persistent, untiring, unified effort, the women of the country have paid the debts of the churches of the country. They are thoroughly prepared, by reason of this experience, to take up any measure where persistent and unified effort will bring success.

Next year they are going to vote for a President. This year in Richmond they are going to vote for the Harbor Bonds, all of them.

When the ships of all the world anchor in our harbor, the women will look and say, "We brought them here!"

VOTE FOR THE HARBOR BONDS.

A Ladies' Aider.

FALLS INTO HOLE: SUES FOR $30,000

Suit for $30,000 damages against Fred Meyers and John Doe for injuries alleged to have been received when, it is claimed, Mrs. Grace E. Mendersee of Richmond fell into a hole dug in front of her home, was filed in the Superior Court on Tuesday by Alois J. Mendersee and Grace E. Mendersee.

According to the complaint, Meyers owns a water system which supplies the residents of Pullman. It is alleged that on the 4th of June of this year an employee or agent of Meyers, whom the complaint names as John Doe, dug a hole in front of the Mendersee home. At five o'clock in the evening of that day, when he completed work he did not cover the hole or put up warning lights. It is claimed, which would protect the public from injury.

About 11 o'clock that night, the complaint recites, when Mrs. Mendersee was returning home from the theatre she fell into the hole and injured herself seriously and as a result of the hurts received at that time it is alleged she has never fully recovered.

'NICK' COLOKERINOS TO BE MARRIED

Many of the friends of "Nick" Colokerinos, "night chef" of the Gold Mine Restaurant, were surprised to hear of his engagement to Miss Marie Salvadoro, a popular young lady of Richmond. It is the outcome of a romance lasting over two years. The young couple expect to be married soon and are planning to go to Los Angeles on their honeymoon. Upon their return they will take up their home at Pinole on "Nick's" chicken ranch.

Citizens of Richmond, Kindly Spirits of Young and Old:

You are most cordially invited to attend the Halloween Social of the Community Council, which is to be held at the Lincoln Auditorium tomorrow evening, October 30th, at 8 o'clock.

Price of admission will be only a smile and a jolly disposition, the same entitling you to all the privileges of the evening.

H. WILDGRUBE STILL WANTS INFORMATION.

John Nichol Ought To Be Boiled in Oil—Wildgrube and Horner Will Never Sneak by Old St. Peter at the Gate—Friends Are Bust in One Another Over the Beans.

Editor Richmond News:

Rear Sir—Permit me to thank you for your information regarding the members of the Taxpayers' Association. According to your statement there only two members left. May I ask how many constitute a quorum to transact the official business at their meetings, and in case of a tie vote, who decides the issue?

You seemed a little surprised that there should be some in Richmond that did not know who constituted the Taxpayers' Association, but as the writer had interviewed practically all of the business men in Richmond, and taxpayers, both large and small, and no one seemed to be willing to be connected with the said association, I think your criticism of my ignorance of who constituted that body is a little hasty. However, as your answer is frank and to the point, I thank you for the same, and as you are willing to answer any questions that are of interest to the citizens and taxpayers of Richmond, may I ask you the following:

We are aware of the fact that a secret meeting was held in Richmond in opposition to the harbor bonds to be voted for on November 4th; that the people at the meeting listened to the arguments of grey-headed engineers, who some of the members report "were quite convincing in their arguments," and it is generally known that some of those who wanted to listen to the anti-arguments of these engineers are the same people who a few years ago advocated and participated in the issuing of the bonds for Richmond's Inner Harbor. That they stated at that time to the public that Richmond's future depended upon the harbor development and that Richmond could develop the best harbor of any city in the West.

Now my question is this: Why are these prominent citizens who a few years ago advocated and participated in spending money for the development of Richmond's harbor, now employing expert engineers to come and tell them why their project that they then advocated is NOW impracticable.

Kindly answer the above questions as your readers would like to know, I am sure.

H. J. WILDGRUBE, Chairman C. of C. Harbor Com.

Dear Mr. Wildgrube:

You must not expect the News to be an information bureau or a walking encyclopedia. There are lots of things we do not know, and the older we get the more we find this out. Nobody knows it all except God and Hiram Johnson, unless, possibly, it might be some young and rising attorney considerably your junior.

As well ask Lodge, Penrose, Knox, Sherman, et al, why, during the McKinley reign, they were so keen for taking over Cuba, the Philippines and Hawaii and world expansion of the United States, and yet under a Wilson reign are directly the opposite. Some Shakespearean character said, "there are many things, Horacio, unknown to thy philosophy," and this, Mr. Wildgrube, may fit your case—it fits ours, all right.

As to there being two members in that association, we find that later developments prove we were wrong. We notice from some hand-

DAILY LOCAL LAFF

There was a terrible scandal got out last evening and the News sent its trusty night sleuths out on the trail, and they reported, also, that it was indeed too true. Mayor Jim Long was seen dodging sort of guiltily down a side street, carrying something partially concealed under his coat-tail, and by peering through the kitchen window of his home and then going back to the store out of which he was seen to come it was ascertained, without a shadow of doubt, that he had actually purchased and paid for a whole dozen of eggs. Now, of course, in these times of taxation and other things too numerous to mention, the question naturally arises, "Where did he get the money?" The News has to admit that it looks suspicious. An investigation committee is talked of.

INQUEST ON DEATH OF WALDON SCOTT

An inquest will be held tonight on the death of Waldon Scott, son of J. F. Scott of El Cerrito, who died Monday night after being run over by a truck driven by Samuel Levinson.

After the accident Levinson gave himself up and was released on his own recognizance pending the findings of the inquest. He claims that several children were playing in the street around the truck when he started, up and that when he saw the Scott boy fall he tried to stop, but was too late to save the child. Funeral services will be held at the family home in El Cerrito today, interment to be in Sunset View cemetery.

BIRTHDAY AND WEDDING CAUSE OF PARTY

A wedding anniversary and a birthday were the occasion of a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Regello of San Pablo Saturday night. Games, music and dancing, with the receiving of a number of beautiful presents by the hostess, helped to pass a pleasant evening.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Silva, Mr. and Mrs. Moniz of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Luiz of Esparto, Mr. and Mrs. A. Azavedo, Manuel Foster of Gridley, Manuel Moraes, Frank Leal of Torrey, P. Silva and Thomas Silva of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. M. Vargas, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Faria, Mr. and Mrs. F. Moltzow, Mr. and Mrs. William Rundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Silva, Mr. and Mrs. Pera, Frank Picoto, Mrs. Emilia Bridges, Alfred Canto, Miss Rose Pera of Centerville, James Dutra and Miss Minnie Silva of San Rafael, M. Pine, Antone Vargas, A. Sefa, M. C. Silva, J. Machado, Frank Felecianna, Miss Clara Pera and Miss Mammie Silva of Berkeley.

That Mr. Horner is a member, also. That makes three.

EDITOR.

THE HUMOROUS SIDE OF THIS CAMPAIGN

He wants To Know Why Certain Gentlemen Who Were For the Harbor a Short Time Ago Are Now Playing the Reverse English, and Why Their Meetings Are So Secret.

This harbor campaign is waxing hot and furious and while the News has taken sides for the issue of the bonds and believes it is right, it is not going to lose its temper over it and call folks names whom it has neighbored with for years. The question is one for serious reflection, study and action on the part of the people, but it is well for us all to remember that we are all friends and neighbors, have the interests of each other and our city at heart, and the only points at issue are disagreements as to what does or does not constitute that best interest.

Attorney Wildgrube, as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce harbor campaign committee, is presenting facts and figures worthy of the earnest consideration of every man and woman. Attorney Horner is also out with a handbill containing as many figures as an arithmetic, and while we cannot all agree upon facts and figures we can probably do tacitly agree upon the basic fact that no lawyer is ever going to be able to get a reserve seat to hear the angelic chorus.

Uncle Levi Boswell has developed into quite an editor, and we are thinking seriously of offering him a job on the News. Young chaps like Levi make good news chasers oftentimes, as they are not chasing anything else—but they sometimes overdo it.

Councilman Garrard has an article in this paper this morning in which he strongly intimates that John Nichol ought to have been strangled in infancy, or words to that effect, and we can see where he is right, speaking, of course, on general principles. John and the News editor were in the bunch that went to New York and Washington and got the Federal Government appropriations started and several times when we got a chance, it was so awful hot back there in July, we sneaked off together and went to Coney Island and other wicked places and saw the pretty girls with bathing suits on made out of a postage stamp. John is unquestionably past praying for. We know him well. He is no lady.

But seriously, friends, while we disagree politically and otherwise, let us do so in a friendly and neighborly spirit, or as near so as our frail natures will permit. The

THE MAGDALENE

Now that the prohibition issue has been practically settled, many cities over the country are turning their attention to the social evil and graft charges against police forces, attempts by many organizations to break up redlight districts and arrest and punish fallen women are noticeable in the dispatches.

The problem is almost as old as time. It has been with us always, and probably always will be, for as long as men and women desire each other carnally, sin will be committed.

Some hold that these women should be confined to segregated districts and regulated by the police. Others hold that they should be pursued by the law and punished the same as any other law-breaker. And neither of these theories have ever worked out as planned.

We have less sympathy for the scarlet women of the world than for many other lawless creatures, and have none of this mawkish sentimentality which the sob squad display. There are, of course, many fine exceptions, but the rule holds true that the average prostitute is abnormal. She is not a normal woman. She is lazy, dissolute, almost brainless and with no conception whatever of anything in the nature of morality. Tell her to go and sin no more, and she goes and sins some more. Sympathy and sentiment are wasted upon her—she cannot appreciate it.

We believe that the particular breed of her which is the large majority, should be confined and treated like one treats dope fiends, inebriates or other abnormal persons, and that in time this will be found to be the solution of the problem.

The average woman of the tenderloin should no more be allowed to run at large than a female dog is allowed to run at large, for there is less difference between the two than most people imagine.

The state, and not crusaders, must eventually solve this problem.

THE WARRIOR AND PEASANT

A little while ago I stood by the grave of the old Napoleon—a magnificent gift of gilt and gold, fit almost for a dead deity. I thought of the orphans and widows he had made—of the tears that had been shed for his glory, and of the only woman who ever loved him, pushed from his heart by the cold hand of ambition. And I said I would rather have been a French peasant and worn wooden shoes; I would rather have lived in a hut with a vine growing over the door and the grapes growing purple in the kisses of the autumn sun; I would rather have been that poor peasant with my loving wife by my side, knitting as the day died out of the sky—with my children upon my knees and their arms about me. I would rather have been that man and gone down to the tongueless silence of the dreamless dust than to have been that imperial impersonation of force and murder.—By Robert G. Ingersoll.

Did it ever occur to you that sending money to the big mail order houses is one way to approve of their method of paying $10 a week to thousands of women and girls? Why not cut out such scams and buy at home, even if it does cost a bit more?

GALLSTONES CAUSE SERIOUS ILLNESS

With four sons, George, Ross, Czar and Burke, her husband, her brother Norburn Neville of Modesto, and Mrs. Royston, a special friend and nurse from Brentwood, awaiting the result, Mrs. D. W. Calfee was operated upon yesterday morning at St. Francis hospital, San Francisco, by Drs. Keiser, Stevens and Harris.

The operation removed 115 gall-stones, ranging in size from a pea to a bird's egg, and the gallbladder. The patient rallied well from the anesthetic and is doing nicely, thus relieving a long period of anxiety on the part of her family and her many friends.

According to the verdict of the doctors there is no reason why Mrs. Calfee should not enjoy the best of health from now on.

The United States Board of Army Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, the most Eminent Engineers in the world on Harbor Construction, Prepared the Plans and Data for the Richmond Inner Harbor Project

The unused portion of the Federal Appropriation, amounting to $328,000, and the $400,000 to be voted November 4th, $728,000 in all, will finish the Government-accepted Project, these engineers have found. The money spent will provide the following:

A channel 600 feet wide extending from deep water near Wharf No. 1 to Brooks Island and then northerly 4000 feet, with a Turning Basin 1200 by 1800 feet in the vicinity of Brooks Island, all to a depth of 24 feet at low tide, and a training wall extending from Brooks Island westerly to the channel entrance.

This will provide approximately 14,000 feet, or nearly three miles of shipping frontage and will open the Richmond Inner Harbor to ocean commerce and develop a large acreage of filled, level land that will provide the sites that shipping, industrial and other enterprises are seeking.

The completed Harbor will add vastly to the growth and prosperity of Richmond. It will create extensive new assessable wealth.

The increased assessments on the land in the vicinity of the new Harbor will alone take care of the interest and payment of the bonds, it is estimated.

Even with the Harbor incomplete as it is, assessments have been more than trebled on some adjacent land, adding much to the city's tax revenue and helping pay for the Harbor cost.

The city itself owns some of this acreage, which will become very valuable if the Harbor is Completed but will not increase in value unless the Project is Finished.

Voters of Richmond, we can rely on the United States Harbor Engineers. They have told us what can be done with the money we are to vote and the United States Fund.

The Money for the Government Project will be spent entirely under the Direction of the Federal Engineers and the City can be assured of efficiency and economy.

Citizens turn out on Election Day and roll up the highest vote possible for the harbor

Gerrard Has Some Thing To Say

will start something in the line of development about the Outer or Inner Harbor and show activity in earnest, I will put on my gum boots and help build a harbor, as I feel it is their move first, and it would not be too much to say if the John Nicholl company wants their land developed let them put up the $328,000 to match the government money, as it is a small amount to what they will be benefited. At any rate, let the land owners move first, as it is their move. The city has paved the way and it won't take much to finish, and when finished with the training wall will be one of the finest harbors in the world of its size. But, the taxpayers have no assurance that anything will happen as nothing has happened so far by the land owners only to sue for damages for the great benefits they have received.
Now ask yourself who are the ones greatly benefited first and largest land owner John Nicholl Co., who always fought everything that was of any benefit to the city. Next comes the Santa Fe, always opposing everything the city does where they have to pay a cent. Next Richmond Land Co. or Geo. Wall, who is said to be putting up the money to fight the Council's salary. Next—the Mintzer estate, which always fought the city. Next—the Bay Counties Land Co., which never have done anything for the good of the city.
Is it not discouraging both for the voters and the Council to help those above mentioned.
The last and most leading question is—Has your property increased in value as much as it has been taxed for the improvement as far as they have gone? I say NO—our property is of less value than before, on account of taxation without returns, as it is impossible, having to lay at the mercy of the above mentioned land owners.
Did you ever stop to think of the principal land owners most benefited by the waterfront improvement? Not one of them lives in Richmond and are selling out their land and boosting their game and some day will be sold out and leave the taxpayers to pay the debt they have profited from. These men should get together and put up the money to do the work contemplated by the city. Then it will be encouraging instead of discouraging for the city of Richmond.

Amount of money claimed and sums paid is as follows:
John Nicholl Co., damages paid, $25,000.
Santa Fe, damages paid, $7,500.
Santa Fe, damages not paid, $80,000.
Santa Fe damages spur track, $4,300.
Forman, damages paid, $12,300.
Carey, damages not paid, $20,000.
Richmond Belt Railway, damages paid $2,500.
Total, $151,600.
This letter is not written for the purpose of influencing the voters of Richmond to vote for or against the proposition, but is merely to call their attention to the fact that it is an important matter and they should express their opinion at the polls. In other words—Get Out and Vote.
E. J. GARRARD.

Wonderful Play Coming To Oakland

What is declared to be the crowning achievement in pictures by the master, David Wark Griffith, "Broken Blossoms," will be seen for the first time in the East Bay cities at the Oakland T. & D. Theatre next Sunday.
"Broken Blossoms" is declared to epitomize the best of Griffith's productions and superlatives have long since been run threadbare in a description of his previous masterpieces. What the master screen dramatist holds in store for those who have not seen his "Broken Blossoms" can be imagined.
"Broken Blossoms" is being brought to Oakland for a ten-day run by the Oakland T. & D. theatre at the biggest expense ever incurred by a theatre in the west. When the fact is noticed that the picture was presented in Los Angeles and San Francisco at road-show prices and is to be shown at the T. & D. theatre for 25c it can be seen that the big theatre is keeping faith with the public in its desire to show the best at the lowest admission prices.
A typical Griffith cast appears in "Broken Blossoms". Lillian Gish is "The Girl," Richard Barthelmess "The Chink" and Donald Crisp "Battling arrows"—three main characters.

SYMPATHY NOT DUE TO ARMY SHIRKERS

PLAIN FACTS CONCERNING THE PENALTIES INFLICTED ON MEN WHO WERE A. W. O. L.

MANY WERE MERE COWARDS

Stayed Away Beyond Their Leave Permits to Avoid Dangerous Duties for Which Other Soldiers Had to Be Detailed.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Washington is still the center for the radiation of controversial matter which concerns itself with charges that many American soldiers during the war were given punishment altogether too severe for small offenses. The country is familiar with the give-and-take in this subject between Judge Advocate General Crowder, who also was the provost marshal general in the army, and Colonel Ansell, who was acting Judge Advocate general while General Crowder was conducting the draft.

A subcommittee of the senate committee on military affairs is considering a general revision of the system of military justice. Some of the most humnily interesting testimony ever given before a committee of congress has been heard in this committee room. It should, of course, be understood that neither General Crowder nor Colonel Ansell, parties to the original controversy, had anything to do with the specific courts-martial which tried and sentenced soldiers for offenses during the war, but General Crowder in a general way has stood for the army system, while Colonel Ansell has been opposed to it.

Heretofore in much that has been written from Washington about this subject of army punishments there has been emphasis laid on the cases in which there seemingly was a miscarriage of justice. Since has been put on punishments which seemed to be out of keeping, with the crimes for which they were inflicted. So far as the defense of the system is concerned, it has been urged that most of it came from regular army officers who were accustomed to old-time methods. It also was said that when what might be called civilian officers of the army were heard from the reverse would be found to be true. One of the latest witnesses before the senate subcommittee was John F. O'Ryan, commander of the New York National Guard, which, of course, is recognized as a part of the civilian soldiery of the country.

A. W. O. L. and Its Punishment.

Leaving entirely out of the controversy at the present time the charges that men were too heavily punished for certain offenses, the subject of punishments for being absent without leave properly can be taken up. From all over the country there have come to Washington protests against sending men to the guardhouse for four or five months simply because they stayed away from their duty for a day or two while on service in France. In one way, this matter has been discussed before, when it was set forth that the protesters against the punishments probably did not know that the absence of some of the "leavetakers" might mean the needless sacrifice of the lives of some of their fellow soldiers. General O'Ryan, National Guardsman, told the senate subcommittee that "the greatest demoralizing agency in any army was the man who shirked battle by being absent without leave without intention of deserting."

Shirkers or Cowards.

Army men in Washington, with the good of the service at heart, are still concerned over this matter of criticism of heavy punishments inflicted on men who absented themselves without leave from their organizations while at the front in France. It is asserted by officers, whether they are from civil life or of the regular establishment, that the men who absented themselves on the eve of battle, or when it might be expected they were to be ordered to the front, were nothing less than shirkers of high duty and, in some cases, cowards. It must be understood that the penalty for desertion in time of war is death and that, therefore, few men would desert, but would take advantage of the limitation of time which was fixed for desertion and return to their organizations in season to be tried simply for absence without leave.

At the risk of criticism for repetition, it may be said that in many cases men who were absent without leave—A. W. O. L. as it is called in the army—"jumped their duty" at a time when their organizations were just about to engage in aggressive operations. If any of these men had been detailed for front trench work it was, of course, necessary to fill their places with other men who otherwise would not have been detailed. Men constantly were sent to certain front line trench duties and it more than occasionally happened that, because certain soldiers were absent without leave other men had to do the dangerous duty twice, and of course in some cases these men who engaged in the double duty sacrificed their lives because of the absence of shirkers.

"THE NEWS" FOR THE NEWS.

To Freshen Silks.

Japanese, China, India and pongee silks are freshened by washing in warm soapsuds, rinsing quickly and drying in the shade; roll in a sheet when not perfectly dry and then iron on the wrong side.

Colored silk fades and white silk yellows after washing, but this may be avoided by using medium warm soap and water and rinsing well; wrap in a large cloth (an old sheet is fine) for half an hour, and then iron on the wrong side with a moderate iron, using a bit of thin lawn between the iron and silk. Do not let the light and air get to it while wet, as this yellows and fades the fabric.

When black silk or satin begins to shine, sponge on the right side with a mixture of two parts of gin and one of water, and iron while damp on the wrong side.

To Remove Grease Stains From Silk. When any greasy substance has been dropped upon silk it can be abstracted by mixing French chalk with methylated spirits to the consistency of cream, laying it upon the stain, then covering with a brown paper and pressing with a warm iron.

French chalk removes grease and does not injure colored silks. Scrape a little on the spot, rub it in, let it stand 24 hours, then brush off and repeat the process if necessary, for grease is often hard to remove.

To Remove Stain from Silk Use Chloroform. First remove as much of the grease spot as you can by the hot-iron method.

ed; that is, place clean blotting paper both above and below the stain, then place a warm iron over the paper. The heat will dissolve the grease which the blotting paper will absorb.

Remove the paper, add a fresh supply under the stain and rub with chloroform.

Grease Spot on a Parasol. You may get rid of the grease spot by laying on hot French chalk. This will dissolve and absorb the grease. Next, the parasol should be opened and then thoroughly washed with gasoline and white soap all over its surface, more particularly on the soiled places.

Afterward sponge off with clear gasoline. By going over every part of the parasol there will be no danger of spots or streaks and gasoline will not harm it. Keep away from fire or artificial light during this process.

Black Lace Popular.

Black tulle and lace frocks are being used more and more for our summer evening costumes. Capes of black tulle with voluminous crushed collars of silver cloth are often worn with these frocks.

Pongee a Favorite.

Pongee is one of the season's favorite fabrics for children, as well as grownups. It is used for both dresses and wraps.

MISS SWANSON WEARS WONDERFUL GOWNS

Gowns that are exceptionally beautiful are worn by Gloria Swanson, who plays the leading feminine role in "Don't Change Your Husband." C. B. DeMiller's new Art-craft picture which comes to the Richmond theatre today and tomorrow.

Among them is an evening gown of brocaded charmeuse with pearls and specially designed head piece; a blue negligee with peacock color effects of brocaded silk with silver lace headpiece; a wistaria colored budor robe of Georgette with moiré ribbons and French flowers and an evening gown of cloth of gold brocaded in blue with blue Georgette drapes and Martin fur trimmings. These constitute, with others, a veritable fashion show which will be appreciated by the ladies who attend the picture. And Miss Swanson knows how to wear these exquisite creations, which were designed by Alpharetta Hoffman.
